

A GIFT OF HOPE

Remembering Breast Cancer
Research Centre-WA in your Will

HOW DO I LEAVE A GIFT TO BREAST CANCER RESEARCH CENTRE-WA?

It's easy to leave a gift in your Will to support BCRC-WA. Before you do, we encourage you to seek legal advice to ensure your Will is valid and achieves everything you want it to. If you don't already have a legal advisor, we suggest you contact the Law Society in your state or territory to obtain a list of lawyers near you who specialise in Wills and Estates. Trustee companies can also advise you. If you plan to update your Will, this can also be completed through your legal professional.

In making a Will, it's important to firstly consider your family and special friends and to inform them if you decide to leave a gift to BCRC-WA.

There are many ways you can leave a gift in your Will, however the most common are through a specific bequest of a particular amount of money, a percentage of your estate or item(s) of property.

AN EXAMPLE OF LEGAL WORDING

An example of suggested legal wording for general support of BCRC-WA through a specific bequest would be:

"I give [the sum of $ _____ or _____%*] of my estate, free of all duties, to the Breast Cancer Research Centre-WA [ABN 19 134 629 146] to be applied for its general purposes and I declare that the receipt of the treasurer or other proper officer of the Breast Cancer Research Centre-WA shall be a sufficient discharge to my executors or trustees."

*choose either a dollar amount or percentage

Your gift can achieve so many things.

Your gift can fund general programs allowing us to apply the funds to the most appropriate research project or pressing need.

DAVID PARK

My decision to leave a gift in my Will to Breast Cancer Research Centre-WA was a purposeful choice. My gift is in memory of my late wife, Janine, who received the best treatment and care available from the BCRC-WA team. It gives me great satisfaction to know that my bequest will have a long term impact.

PROFESSOR ARLENE CHAN

Over the past 20 years, medical oncologist and founder of BCRC-WA, Professor Arlene Chan AM, has worked to improve the lives of breast cancer patients and their families. Professor Chan, who was made a Member of the Order of Australia in 2018 for her services to breast cancer, and won the 2016 Western Australian of the Year Award in the Professions category, undertakes ground breaking clinical trials to uncover new treatments in a quest for higher cure rates and longer survival rates. As a result, BCRC-WA is recognised globally as a leader in breast cancer research.

A GIFT IN YOUR WILL IS A GIFT OF HOPE

Remembering BCRC-WA in your Will means you'll be supporting our world class breast cancer research and education. Your gift can fund patient focused research that will impact future generations.

Or, it can fund much needed support services such as breast cancer nurses or oncologists for example.

With your help, we can improve survival rates and minimise the impact of breast cancer through research and education and by providing support to individuals with breast cancer and their families.

Your gift will help us build on a firm foundation and directly impact the lives of patients. And, importantly, you'll be leaving behind a lasting legacy.

WHY LEAVE A GIFT IN YOUR WILL TO BREAST CANCER RESEARCH CENTRE-WA?

Leaving a gift in your Will to BCRC-WA is an opportunity for you to partner with us in our vision for the future.

BCRC-WA is the foremost breast cancer research centre in Western Australia. The world class research we undertake provides an essential foundation for the breast cancer treatment we provide, making BCRC-WA the clear first choice for breast cancer patients.

Through a gift in your Will, you can help BCRC-WA continue to conduct international trials that will benefit many patients, prolong their lives and help them to have a better cancer experience due to the advances in treatment and drugs.
